Accessing Bookmarks in Firefox
1.

•

Launch Firefox. Open a Firefox browser by double-clicking the icon (Fox wrapped around a globe) on the desktop.
•

Click the clipboard icon to the right of the star (bookmark) icon. The icon is at the top-right corner of the window This will open a drop-down menu that will let you select some options regarding bookmarks and saved pages.
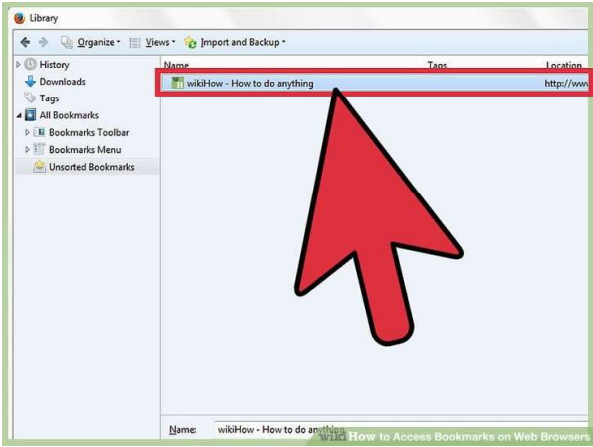

•

Click "Show All Bookmarks" at the bottom of the list. This will open the Library window.

• Alternatively, you can press the key combination CTRL + SHIFT + B to summon the Library window directly.

•

View your bookmarks. In the left panel of the Library window, you will see a navigation pane. Click on "Bookmarks" to expand the list if it isn't expanded already. Here you will see all the bookmarks you've made, including those organized into folders.
•

Open a bookmark. Double-click a bookmark to launch it in a new tab in your browser.
Method 2

Accessing Favorites in Internet Explorer

1.

- Open an Internet Explorer browser. Bookmarks in Internet Explorer (IE) are called Favorites, the full list of which are accessed in the Favorite Center. Start by launching IE with a double-click on its icon (which looks like a blue lowercase "e").
- Click the left star icon near the upper-left corner of the screen. While in the browser, notice the icons in the upper-left corner, just below the URL bar; you should see two star icons there.

    - The one to the right of it is the star icon with a green plus, which you use to add a page to the Favorites list.
    - Clicking the left star icon will list of all the web pages you've set as Favorites.

- Select "Favorites." The list should come out with three tabs (Favorites, Feeds, and History); select "Favorites" from the three.

    - On the Favorites window, you will see all the Favorites you've added, along with the defaults IE puts in there for you.

1. Open a Favorite website. Simply click one of your Favorites to launch its web page in a new tab.

Method 3

Accessing Bookmarks in Google Chrome

1.

- Launch your Chrome browser. Do this by double-clicking the Chrome icon (green, red, and yellow outer circle with a blue inner circle).

Open the Bookmark Manager. Once the browser window is open, you can press the key combination CTRL + SHIFT + O to open the Bookmark Manager in a new tab.

- For a longer route, you can click on the Options menu (three horizontal bars) in the upper-right corner of the window then click "Bookmarks"; you'll see a compact list of the bookmarks you've made.

1. Open a bookmark. In either the Bookmark list or the Bookmarks Manager, double-click a bookmark that you want to go to, and it will launch in a new tab.

Method 4

Accessing Bookmarks in Safari

- 1.

- Open a Safari browser. The Safari browser in Mac OS X Mavericks offers a streamlined way of accessing your bookmarks. Before anything else, launch your Safari browser, which should be on your desktop's dock at the bottom.
  - The Safari browser's icon looks like a compass.

Click on "Bookmarks" in the menu bar at the top of the window. It is at the right side of "History." This should open the Bookmarks list in a full window, allowing you to see all your bookmarks on your Safari browser.

Open a bookmark. To go to a bookmarked web page, double-click on the bookmark to open the web page in a new tab.
